For us, Freedballet is a dream of freedom and creativity brought to life. It is about going beyond and finding new forms in ballet art. It is also a light, which is inside us and which we generously want to share with our audience.

The joy of creating and making things happen. With a great interest in the laws of creation and of course with love - for life and people, for what we do and for our audience - we make this project.

Each of our shows is a teamwork of stage director, lighting designers, leading performers, musicians and dancers - we use everyone's talent and skill to achieve perfection, not only in the creativity, but also in the technical aspect of the performance.
